BLOOMFIELD BRIEF LOCALS.

Bloomfield has 319 gas lamps and Montclair has 234.
The city of strawberries-early O! is now heard through the town.
A Bontion man in Bloomfield on business concedes that in magnitude, energy and keen penetration the Bloomfield mosquito exceeds his Bontion brother.
If you want to be considered unworthy of notice by a Montclair man, refer to his town as the place they call West Bloomfield.
Work on the new building of Excelsior Hose Company is progressing, the building as far as completed presents every appearance of proving a suitable structure.
A concert was given in Catholic Union Hall, Thursday evening, by Madame Rosa d'Fina and Prof. Vantom at which a large audience was present.
It is said the proverbially difficult task of finding a needle in a haystack, is paralleled in the search for a time table of Bloomfield trains at the Broad street depot, Newark.
Mr. J. Magory has fitted up his store on Glenwood avenue, in a very neat manner as a shaving and hair-dressing room, and will be glad to receive the patronage of the public. His advertisement is in THE CITIZEN.
At 8 o'clock A. M. on Decoration Day, the members of Pierson Post, G. A. R., will proceed to the Cemetery to decorate with flowers the graves of their dead comrades. There are 54 soldiers' graves in the Cemetery.
About 2,000 feet of the road work on Broad street is finished from Bay avenue to Mr. Lindenmyer's. The work of stoning is being carried on from Bay Avenue to the Stone bridge, which will connect with the O'Rourke contract. That portion of the work completed is pronounced very good.
The N. Y. & G. L. R. Co. are contemplating erecting a new depot at the foot of Beach street. An additional express train has been put on the road.
Family book tickets issued by the road are proving popular. Arrangements have been made for selling excursion tickets to Coney Island, Rockaway and all the popular resorts.
It is interesting to note the various devices tried by our citizens to counteract the depredations of the elm beetle. Tar, oil, tarred rope, medicated cotton, white wash and a contrivance apparently designed to perform the service of an umbrella to the tree roots. Evidently recourse to the small boys traditional method of catching birds, by an application of salt to their posterior feathers, presents itself as the only effectual method of eradicating the pest.
Those whose evenings are spent in or near the centre of the town, may not suffer the inconvenience experienced by suffering from the wheemen's little whistle to stand aside. Those living in the suburbs adjacent to the Oranges and those whose preoccupations lead them that way, are sometimes called upon to yield the pedes-trian's priority of right to the usurper on the wheel. Wheelmen should be impressed with the fact that their privileges stand second in order of comparison with those of footmen on the sidewalk.
On Sunday the 21st, while a great many people were on their way home from church, they were startled by the ringing of the fire bell. The barn owned by Mr.
Corby and occupied by the U. S. Express Co., was discovered to be on fire. It was quickly extinguished by the firemen who were promptly on the spot. Phoenix Hose, Essex Truck, Excelsior No. 3 and Active No. 2 following one another in close order.
The damage was slight. The origin of the fire is said to be unknown.
The pupils of Miss Northall's school are preparing to give an entertainment of a most interesting character; it is entitled a "Cantata of Red Riding Hood." The little boys and misses, have been for months studying and rehearsing their parts, and now their patient teacher feels that they may appear in public with credit to her and themselves. The exhibition will take place at Library Hall, Friday evening, June 10th. It is hoped that the efforts of these young people will be rewarded by a full attendance on the night of the performance. Tickets may be had by applying to the children of Westminster Church.
With the warm weather the mosquito and the amphibious small-boy have put in appearance. To keep both in their legiti-mate bounds touching "liberty and the pursuit of happiness" is one of the duties devolving upon good citizenship during the season. As to the trespasses of the former Mr. Cooper will give some valuable advice. As to the latter a sign, authorized by the Town Committee, "Bathing Forbidden" and posted wherever the canal and other streams that wash the shores of our town touch a public road or a cluster of houses, would prove of some service in keeping bathers, who even on Sundays come from as far as Orange for a swim, within their proper limits. Should this word to the wise prove insufficient, a pronouncement from our Patres Concipit in the Town Board should speedily follow with Jersey Justice in the shape of a constable.

Glen Ridge.
Masons, carpenters, painters, landscape gardeners and all the other artisans employed in constructing and beautifying homes, are busily engaged in Glen Ridge, where quite a number of commodious dwellings of unique designs and attractive appearance are being put up, in addition to those already finished.

The Glen Ridge Club gave its regular fortnightly entertainment, on Wednesday evening last; it consisted of readings by Mr. Gallagher and Mr. Howe, practical illustrations of hypnotism, by Mr. Mitchell, and music and mimicry by Mr.
Young. Altogether it was a very pleasant affair, and was much enjoyed by those present.

The spirit of improvement is thoroughly aroused throughout Glen Ridge, even the R. R. Co., has become infected and is developing aesthetical to an astonishing degree.

Public interest in the recent sensation is on the wane.

Montgomery.
Business brisk at the Copper Works.
Business at D. Baker's horse mart is reported as flourishing.

The present management of Montgomery School is a decided improvement on any previous efforts in that line. Large increase in attendance is noted.

The attention of the Y. M. C. A. is called to the meeting held every Sunday evening in the School house. Their help is needed.

Workmen are actively engaged fitting up the old mill formerly used as a smelting works for the purpose of manufacturing satinette. It is expected that 150 hands will be employed. Two large boilers, estimated at 150 horse power each, are to be placed in the mill.

Considerable anxiety is manifested among people living in this section of the town with regard to the mud that is being excavated from the old millpond, several medical men having expressed the opinion that it would be productive of malaria.

A report has been current here lately to the effect that 15 years ago a donation of $300 for the purpose of erecting a chapel in this neighborhood was made by two ladies of Bloomfield. There seems to be a doubt in the minds of some of the people with regard to its having ever been made, and if it was where is it?

While the people of Soho appreciate the enterprise displayed by the N. Y. & G. L.
Co. in increasing the number of trains, they trust that the same spirit will stimulate the company to provide some accommodation for its patrons in this section in the shape of a depot, the present subterfuge for such being a tree, kindly lent by nature, which answers the purpose in fine weather, and the citizens' umbrellas in stormy weather.

Wateasing.
There are over 300 hands employed in the hutting industry in Wateasing.

J. W. Butterworth is increasing his facilities for handling wood and coal and masons' materials.

J. W. Butterworth, real estate agent, says that there is a great demand for houses suitable for mechanics in this vicinity.

One of the principal wants of this end of the town is the erection of a building, available for lodge rooms, and for fairs, concerts, and public meetings.

Five additional trains making twelve in all now run between Wateasing and New York on the N. Y. & G. L. R. Two extra trains have been added and a midnight train.

Among the visitors to Eureka Lodge on the night of the 17th was discovered the jolly face of ex-foreman William J.
Kaufman, who had come down from his farm away up in Bergen county.

The first anniversary of Prospect Hose Company of East Orange was held in the rooms of the company on Prospect street Tuesday evening. A very enjoyable evening was spent, and the festivities were kept up until a late hour. Among the invited guests were the East Orange Town Council, Henry Mills, Chief of the Fire Department, Ashland Hose Co., and the Wateasing Glee Club, who furnished music for the occasion. A fine supper was prepared by the lady friends of the members. Speeches were made by Mr. C. H.
Halfpenny and Councilman David Wilson. An interesting feature of the evening was the experiment tried with apparatus set up for the occasion by the Union Fire Alarm Co.

Mr. McCullum, the Librarian of the Wateasing Free Library, states that the Library contains about 500 books ranging through all the various branches of literature, besides a large stock of material in pamphlet form. About twenty per cent of the books are in constant circulation among the people, and the class most frequently sought, evinces a cultivated taste on the part of readers, which it is the aim of the association to encourage and promote. At the last regular meeting of the trustees, the Library was reported in good condition, and the institution free from debt. Joseph L. Munn, Esq., of East Orange presented the Library with a handsome edition of the works of Sir Walter Scott complete.

Citizens living at the extreme limits of the township who have hitherto complained that by the time the lamplighter reached the lamps in that vicinity, the limited time specified in the contract for burning the gas has almost expired and that the work of extinguishing is begun almost simultaneously with the lighting, will rejoice to learn that the gas company has consented to furnish gratuitously an extra half hour's light. Beside being of great physical benefit to the public, this measure will prove of great physical benefit to the lamplighter as it will enable him to collect sufficient breath to carry out the balance of his labors. Those who speak in disparaging terms of the parsimonious spirit attributed by some to the gas company, by others to the town committee should, before indulging in their denunciatory phrases, consider that both parties are placed under restriction. The first by the terms of a contract which in common justice they should not be expected to exceed, the latter by the willingness or unwillingness of the people to pay.
Enjoying gas light and paying for it is obviously a question presenting a light and a dark side.

Mr. William C. Carl and pupils will give a private musical soiree in Newark Wednesday evening, June 1st, with the assistance of Mrs. A. W. Bray, soprano and Mr. Henry C. Williams, tenor.

Montclair.
A private school for boys will be opened in Montclair, the second week in September, 1887, under the charge of J. B.
McVicar A. B. from Rochester, N. Y.
Mr. McVicar has had several years of experience as a teacher, and comes highly recommended. His assistant, Mr. L. E.
Dow, is a college graduate and an experienced teacher. Boys of any age will be admitted, and prepared for college or business. This school will meet a long felt want, and will afford the residents of Bloomfield as well as Montclair the advantages of a well conducted private school. joying a season of prosperity. On June 7th the ## Comments of the Press on Good Roads.

Congressman Phelps has a strong prejudice in favor of good roads, and he never lets an opportunity slip to display this peculiar trait of character. No section of Bergen county has roads half so fine as the smooth highways and private thoroughfares all open to the public which skirt and run through Mr. Phelps' broad domain, the same being the garden spot of Jersey. At the late road meeting in this district $1,000 was voted, when Mr. Phelps announced that if the voters would increase the sum by $200, he would add $300 from his own pocket, and thus complete a piece of desired macadamizing. It was done. If the farmers could be brought to understand the value of good roads, and could be induced to keep the roadsides free from brush, they would be greatly benefited. Hackensack Republican.

If tenants are to be secured houses must be built; good roads and sidewalks must be laid, and every method of social enjoyment made to minister to the comfort and happiness of the new-comers. A live town will have many friends. A way ought to be found to provide them with pleasant homes as fast as they arrive. *Bloomfield
